NEW FEATURES 2027
KITCHEN, BATHROOM AND LIVING AREA

DESIGN MEETS LIFESTYLE

There comes that moment in the day when you close your door behind you and leave the world outside. When you slow down and relax. When you get to simply be at home. What sounds like a personal experience has become a massive trend. Our homes are becoming an ever more important space: as a reliable safe haven, as a place of comfort and a deliberate antithesis to the hurry and worry of everyday life. Under the motto “From Vision to Home”, our new features for 2027 respond to just this development – with calming earthy hues, natural surfaces, consistent development of time-tested best-selling products and sophisticated concepts that make that feeling of warmth and safety plannable.

2027’s big trend: Slowing down as a factor for success.
Calm, minimalist, yet full of warmth: The need for that feeling of being sheltered has become a central design motif. Our new colour palette focuses on soft earthy hues such as Sand and Ivory, complemented by trend colours inspired by nature such as Terracotta and Berry, as well as dark wood décors.

Authentic wooden looks with vivid grain, textured fronts and balanced tone-in-tone details create tranquil surfaces, depth and material quality you can feel. Worktops in natural stone and wood décors complement the overall look – for a consistent feeling throughout the whole room.

Powerful in everyday life. Powerful in the market.
We have developed our range of best-selling products even further by including deliberately designed additions. Seven of ten new fronts have been given an anti-fingerprint coating – including, for the first time, a melamine resin coated front in a textured wood look from the 382 range. The new elegant micro frame front 701 reaches new target groups that value delicate geometries and clean lines.

To create a more beautiful ambiance and provide greater convenience, there is the newly developed under-worktop lighting – and it can be installed even in plans without handleless designs. Push-to-open on hinged fittings and flexible width reductions on drawers and pull-outs create added value for planning.

The entire home. Thought through to the smallest detail.
For bedrooms we now offer the wardrobe range DREAM with new planning options, additional lighting solutions and interior equipment, designed to impress. Our cottage-style range is growing larger and more versatile and now includes independent product lines for living rooms and bathrooms. Six new sliding door décors expand the design versatility for room dividers and dressing room solutions. In the bathroom segment, a new wellness unit and top-mounted hand basins in a natural stone appearance have been added to the range as appealing wellness highlights.

Our new features for 2027 combine powerful design trends for the entire home with sophisticated concepts and great market relevance.
We hope the following pages will inspire you – enjoy!

ONE BEST-SELLER
MANY QUALITIES.

The honed lacquer surface unites a velvety feel with clean, modern design. Anti-fingerprint coating keeps the high-quality look flawless in everyday life by preventing visible fingerprints and making the surface much easier to clean. New trend colours that are ideal for a fully coordinated tone-in-tone concept have also been added to 357. 357 also sets standards where sustainability is concerned: with a melamine chipboard made fully from recycled material that is, itself, fully recyclable and has been awarded the "Blue Angel" environmental label.

CALMING HUES.

IVORY – A WARM WHITE WITH A SOFT MOOD.

Arrive. Breathe. Simply be at home. Moody neutrals such as ivory and sand let you do just that – by giving rooms a bright, warm ambiance that radiates calm and lightness. With a consistent tone-in-tone design from the furniture to the handles, these hues display their full potential. Surfaces in a marble and quartz look add subtle highlights.

DELICATE FRAMES. CLEAN GEOMETRY.

Framed fronts are a classic design choice – and are currently in high demand in a modern reinterpretation. Our new micro frame front 701 gives this look a contemporary touch, thereby reaching new target groups: Customers that appreciate the classy look of a frame design, but prefer clean, reduced styles. The warm sand hue adds a sense of calm to the plan and opens up more space for different combinations: From tone-in-tone for a cosy contemporary style to an accompanying hue for natural materials.

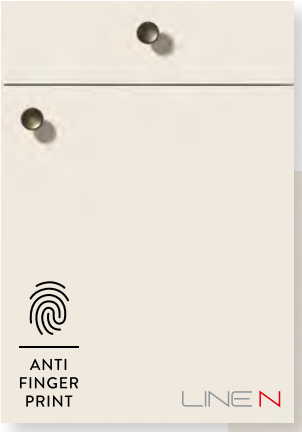
NATURAL COSINESS.

This off-white deserves renewed attention. Ivory feels warmer and more inviting than pure white, and therefore represents a response to the growing demand for natural cosiness. And that's just where the new potential of this well-established colour comes from: it is bright enough to create a feeling of lightness, but warm enough to create a relaxed ambiance.



Ivory is perfect for tone-in-tone designs – but looks just as beautiful in a wide variety of combinations, even with dark contrasts.

INTENSITY IN COLOUR.

Our colours are bold – not loud, but deep.
In 2027, the trend colours Terracotta and Berry bring nature indoors. These hues are earthy, sensual and confident at the same time. They create a cosy haven but have a strong personality, too. Combining them with dark stone and marble surfaces results in a harmonious interplay of colour and material. Colour becomes a feeling: warm, expressive and with a strong presence.

Nero oak is a modern, clean oak style with a vivid wood look, texture you can feel and precise lines. This décor was developed further for added value: for the first time, anti-fingerprint coating is available on a melamine resin coated front. The result is a design that is not just visually impressive, but easy to clean and elegant in the long run, even with large, dark-coloured surfaces.

A NEW KIND OF AMBIANCE.

Ambient lighting is a firm part of contemporary kitchen design – it is not just functional but shines a spotlight on materials and surfaces. In particular, handleless kitchens can use illuminated recessed handles to great effect. The new LED lighting SILVA now opens up this freedom of design for conventional kitchens, too – irrespective of their handle solution, style or range.

INDIRECT LIGHTING. FOR ANY KITCHEN.

Whether end-to-end along the kitchen run, on all sides of an island or as a deliberate highlight underneath worktops – SILVA adapts to any plan. The light is reflected by the surface beneath, creating an even, indirect effect without a visible light source.
